A MECHANICAL CALCULATOR THAT COST ENGLAND £17,000.

An Invention That Attracted Wide Attention For Many Years, but Which Was Finally Abandoned as Being of No Practical Use.

Babbage's calculating machine would require a whole volume to do its marvelous history anything like justice. In the year 1810 Babbage really commenced operations by taking a number of wheels to a wheel cutter at Lambeth to have the teeth cut in them. Toward the end of July, 1833, the inventor commenced upon the difference engine, and he worked on it for four years regularly, with the result that, in October, 1827, he had spent £2,475. The very first difference engine made, however, was put together between the year 1830 and June, 1832. It consisted of from six to eight figures. A larger and more perfect machine was afterward commenced in 1833 for the government. The latter was to have six orders of differences, each consisting of about 20 places of figures. It was also intended to print the tables it computed. In 1827 Babbage's wife died, and he was advised to travel on the continent, being in a low state of health. He left the drawings, however, in order that the work might be carried on in his absence, and he also gave his banker instructions to advance £1,000 while he was away. In the beginning of 1829 the government directed the Royal Society to inquire into the machine, and the administration also directed that a fireproof building should be constructed in East street, Manchester square, close to Babbage's house, 1 Dorset street, in which it was intended to place the machines when finished. One day early in 1832, finding he could no longer make payments in advance, Babbage informed the engineer in charge of the works that in future he would not pay him until money was received from the treasury. Thereupon the mechanic struck work and dismissed his men. One of these, in receipt of 2 guineas a week, was afterward the famous engineer, Sir J. Whitworth.

Babbage's troubles had just commenced. His best draftsman came to him one day and said he had just received a tempting offer from the French government, whereupon his tortured employer had to give him a substantial increase of salary in order to retain his services. After the strike of the inventor's men years of delay and anxiety followed, Babbage applying repeatedly to the government for its decision upon the subject, but in vain. Notwithstanding that the difference engine was suspended, this indomitable man still continued his inquiries, and having discovered principles of far wider extent, he ultimately embodied them in the analytical engine. Both machines can be seen on application at the South Kensington museum. For upward of 20 years Babbage maintained, in his own house and virtually at his own expense, an elaborate establishment for carrying out his views. He died at his London house on Oct. 18, 1871, and Sir Robert Peel admitted to the house of commons, in March, 1843, that, although £27,000 had been spent by the government on the machine, Babbage himself had never received a shilling.

And yet the invention was not wholly valueless. An eminent and wealthy manufacturer of Manchester came to London and saw this machine, and, on inspecting closely, he found mechanical contrivances which he subsequently introduced with the greatest advantage in his own spinning machinery. Of course, even after the machine had been definitely abandoned by the government, a vast amount of interest was taken in it by the public. Many numbers of both houses of parliament were very fond of putting perille questions to the inventor. "Pray, Mr. Babbage," cried one of the ancient dignitaries, "if you put the wrong figures into the machine would the right answers come out?"

The fans of Babbage's calculating machine spread to the ends of the earth. Count Strzycki once told Babbage that the Chinese inquired after it. The guileless Celestials were anxious to know whether the machine could be carried in the pocket. The inventor assured them, however, through his excellency, that "it was essentially an out of pocket machine."

The difference engine was not exhibited in 1851. Its loan was refused to New York and also to the Dublin exhibition of 1847. It was, however, exhibited in the exhibition of 1863, but space for its drawings was refused, and that the authorities had a low opinion of the thing will be evident from the fact that payment of 6 shillings a day for a competent person (formerly Babbage's secretary) to explain the mechanism was refused by the commissioners. General Babbage, the inventor's son, assured me that Wellington, when premier, went to Lambeth to personally inspect the machine, and, having seen it at work—for it is quite perfect in its way—he directed the chancellor of the exchequer to arrange further grants, his idea being that the calculating part should be finished first, in order that there might be something of real value to show to parliament in return for the money of the nation. General Babbage further assures me that when the machine was abandoned it could, in his opinion, have been entirely completed for £500.—Strand Magazine.

RUIN AND MISERY

WHAT WILL BECOME OF THE YOUNG MEN OF THE DAY?

Cigarette smoking is one of the evils which is fast increasing among the young men of the period. It is an age of nervousness; nervous excitement, nervous weakness, nervous debility is the growing malady of the day. Minds are over-burdened in school, the pleasures of social life follow upon the difference engine, and he worked on it for four years regularly, with the result that, in October, 1827, he had spent £2,475. FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM J. BRYAN, OF NEBRASKA.
FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
ARTHUR SEWALL OF MAINE.

FLOCKING TO THE BRYAN STANDARD.

Four weeks ago Senator Thurston said that McKinley would have 60,000 majority in Nebraska. Now a dispatch from Lincoln says the Republicans claim the State by a plurality of 5,000. Many prominent Republicans right in Lincoln have come out for Bryan recently and free silver managers are confident of an overwhelming majority vote from farmers and organized labor for Bryan in the State.

This shows the trend of public sentiment in the East. In a State that was claimed for McKinley by 50,000 majority a month ago, the gold men will now be more than satisfied with 5,000 plurality, while the silver men claim the State by an overwhelming majority.

This is a campaign of education and the more the people investigate the financial question the more votes there will be for Bryan in November. A few months ago the people east of the Mississippi were generally opposed to free coinage. Now a majority in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio are said to be for silver. They know from sad experience that the money value of property and labor has depreciated at least fifty per cent in a few years and that this depreciation cannot be attributed to a change of 11 1/2 per cent in tariff schedules. They are aware that property depreciated in value during the two years in which the McKinley bill was in force and that it continues to depreciate under the Wilson bill and that, therefore, it is due to some other cause than the change in the tariff. This cause they discover in the adoption of the single gold standard, which reduced the volume of money about one-half and as the appreciation in gold is proportionate to the depreciation in every other kind of property members of all parties are flocking to the Bryan standard in Nebraska and other States as they cannot endure four more years of the single gold standard.

As Republicans as well as men who have affiliated with other parties are alike affected by the depreciation they are going for Bryan as the only means of affording relief to the country, while on the other hand Democrats as well as Republicans who are profiting by the general depression and who are selfish enough to desire its continuance, are for McKinley and the gold trust.

REPUDIATING POWDERLY.

The Knights of Labor are indignant at what they term the treason of Ex-Master Workman Powderly. They have furnished the Democratic National Campaign Committee with copies of letters written by Powderly in his official capacity to be used to offset his present efforts in behalf of McKinley and the gold platform. Whenever Powderly speaks during the campaign for McKinley copies of letters which he wrote denouncing the cause he now espouses will be circulated among the audience.

In New York City district assemblies of the Knights of Labor crowded Cooper Union hall and protested against the speech of Powderly. Resolutions were adopted bitterly denouncing Powderly as a Judas and a traitor to the cause of labor, attacking Hanna and endorsing the Chicago platform and William J. Bryan.

It is remarkable that all the trusts and combinations in the country that have been enriched by the labor of others are telling their employees that it will benefit them to have the single gold standard continued in the United States. If such is the fact why is it that more men have been out of employment and wages have been reduced more in the last six years than ever before? For two years of that time we had the McKinley tariff act and for two years since August, 1894, the Wilson tariff act, neither of which restored prosperity to the country. Organized labor understands this and cannot be convinced that the tariff is the cause of the reduction of wages and the regiments of unemployed, who are graduating as tramps, throughout the country, and neither Mr. Cochran nor Mr. Powderly, nor any other of Mr. Hanna's hired men seems to be able to satisfy them that it is not for the best interests of the country to elect William J. Bryan President of the United States.

POPULISTS WILL NOT VOTE FOR MCKINLEY.

Senator Marion Butler of North Carolina is Chairman of the Populist National Committee. He emphatically denies the story circulated through the press that the Populists were fusing with the Republicans in Texas and other Southern States. He says there will be no fusion anywhere between the Populists and the Republicans on the electoral ticket, as the Populists do not propose to aid in any possible manner the election of a President pledged to the gold standard, and all stories to that effect are products of the imagination.

That statement from such authority as the Chairman of the Populist National Committee ought to remove all doubts as to the attitude of the National Populist party toward McKinley. Men claiming to be Populists may enter into combinations with Republicans to defeat Bryan or lessen his chances of carrying the electoral vote of a State, but the Populist National Committee does not sanction or countenance any such combination.

Shot by a Jealous Husband.
CARBONDALE, Pa., September 17.—James Hawkins, a Delaware and Hudson railroad brakeman, this afternoon was shot and dangerously wounded by O. Arnold, a shoemaker, who suspected Hawkins of undue intimacy with his wife. Arnold caught them together coming from a house, and having been on the lookout for them, at once opened fire on Hawkins. Arnold was arrested and jailed, while Hawkins was taken to the hospital for treatment.

A Child Terribly Mangled.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., September 17.—While racing on her tricycle with an electric car little 5-year-old Eva Toomey lost her balance and met with a frightful death under the wheels. The child's head was nearly severed from her body, and her limbs and body mangled. Eva thought it would be fun to beat the car to her home. She was ahead of the car and becoming excited she failed to see a block of wood which she struck, and was hurled in front of the car.

Death from a Dog Bite.
NEW YORK, September 17.—Charles Buechle has sued W. Wettsch and August Boinnaph for $20,000 damages for the death of his son, August Buechle, who was bitten by a dog. The animal was about Wettsch's tanery. Boinnaph was the watchman there and there is a question of ownership of the dog to be decided.

Miners Killed.
VICTORIA, Col., September 17.—Dan McLeod and Frank Ladbetter were killed to-day by an explosion in the Independence mine. They drilled into a blast that had failed to go off.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Complete returns from the Maine election give Powers a plurality of 48,732.

Herbert F. Blympton of the Massachusetts Republican State Central Committee suicided.

F. W. Humphrey & Co., clothing dealers at St. Louis, have assigned. The liabilities are $125,000, of which $25,000 is unsecured.

A large number of workmen from the Edgar Thompson Steel Works, owned by the Carnegie Company, visited McKinley yesterday.

The United States battleship Texas, which grounded off New Port, Rhode Island, was hauled into deep water by four tugs and is apparently uninjured.

S. K. Taylor, a carpenter, was hired to tear down an old house in Petaluma. By mistake he commenced work on the wrong house and had the building half down before the owner heard of it and stopped him.

The Midland Bank of Omaha has closed its doors and requested the Banking Board to take charge of its affairs. The bank officers say depositors have been withdrawing their accounts for the purpose of hoarding.

The Convention of the National Campaign clubs of the Silver party called for September 23d at Chicago has been postponed until October 3d at St. Louis, where the Democratic Clubs hold a convention on that day.

The Supreme Court of California has decided that San Francisco comes under the County Government act and that the Sheriff, Coroner, Clerk, District Attorney, Recorder, Auditor and Public Administrator will hold office for four years instead of two.

Edward Bell, the alleged Irish dynamiter, was arraigned in the Bow Street Police Court, London, yesterday. He is described as an American, and is accused of conspiring with others to cause an explosion in the United Kingdom. He was remanded to jail.

Bryan began speech making at Charlotte, North Carolina, yesterday, early in the morning. He was escorted to the park by the Hornet's Nest Rifles and the Knights of Pythias Commandery of mounted men. He addressed several thousand people and left for Dunham at 10 o'clock.

The charge of theft against Signor Crispi, the natural son of ex-Premier Crispi of Italy, is creating a sensation at Rome. Young Crispi obtained a latch key to the residence of the Countess of Cellareo, and jewelry valued at $8,000 was taken from her apartments. Crispi was suspected, but the police refused to prosecute him. The charge is now renewed and it is alleged that young Crispi is a kleptomaniac.

The New York Democratic State Convention yesterday unreservedly endorsed the Chicago platform and pledged W. J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall hearty and active support, and that never before in the history of the Democratic party has a platform been written which embodied more completely the interests of the whole people, as distinguished from those who seek legislation for private benefit than that given the country by the National Democratic Convention of 1896. This declaration was unanimously adopted. John Boyd Thatcher of Albany was nominated for Governor and Wilbur F.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Everybody is rustling to get all the silver they can. There is not a thing for sale that cannot be purchased with silver and yet there are men who pretend to fear that they will get too much silver.

Will Winfrey, who is now an engineer on the Carlin and Ogden division of the Southern Pacific, is visiting his parents near Reno. He is a big, wholesome fellow and is glad to meet his old friends.

There are men in Reno who work six days a week for silver who say they are afraid free coinage will flood the country with it. Of course the reasonable assumption is that they do not believe what they say.

The latest in hats will be on display at Miss Gibbs' millinery parlors on Monday, September 14th, at 2 p. m., and following days. Sky-lark sailors, horned head and snake trimming are some of the new fads.

Nathan, the pioneer, is offering special bargains in fall and winter suits. Now is the time to select an overcoat, and if Nathan does not happen to have just what is wanted in stock he will order it.

THE FIRE ALARM.

County Clerk Porter's Residence Destroyed by Fire.

At a little before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon an alarm of fire was rung in from the south side of the river and the steamer was soon hurrying down Virginia street closely followed by the hose company. It was reported that County Clerk Porter's residence was on fire and a crowd of people started for that part of town.

Although prompt, considering the long distance, the fire boys arrived too late to save anything but the charred shell of the house, most of the contents having been removed before the firemen arrived.

Mrs. Porter accounts for the fire as follows: She was in a small bedroom and had a curling iron on a lamp preparing it for use when the baby, who is just learning to walk, received a hard fall. She hurried to the child's assistance, and the lamp, which was an unsteady one, upset setting fire to the carpet and some of the bedding. Men who were working on an adjoining lot were called and this blaze was put out. Fully a half hour had elapsed when Mrs. Porter discovered that the contents of a closet opening off from the room were on fire. The men were again called but saw at once the house was doomed and immediately began removing the furniture, carpets, etc.

Mrs. Porter thinks that when the fire first occurred and when the men were putting it out the closet door was open and a spark probably got into a lot of bedding she had piled on the floor and had smoldered there unnoticed until it was too late. The house belongs to L. H. Taylor and is insured for $1,500.

Mr. Porter had an insurance on his furniture, etc., but had not looked into it lately and thought it might have lapsed.

Nearly all of the clothes of the family, also much of the bedding was destroyed, but the furniture and carpets nearly all saved, although considerably damaged. The loss to Mr. Taylor will probably reach $2,500 with an insurance of $1,500, and Mr. Porter's loss will run close to the $300 figure.

LINCOLN'S WARNING.

Extract From His Last Message to Congress.

During the war President Lincoln had opportunity to watch the movements of a certain class of men which were hidden from the eyes of the people. So grave were the encroachments of the allied English and American money powers and so bold their demand for class legislation that Lincoln foresaw the consequences that would result from their success used these words in his last message to Congress: "Monarchy is sometimes hinted at as a possible refuge from the power of the people. In my present position I could scarcely be justified were I to omit raising a warning voice against this approach of returning despotism. Let them lose the power which they already possess, and which if surrendered will surely be used to close the door of advancement against such as they, and to fix new disabilities and burdens upon them till all of liberty shall be lost."—(Appendix Cong. Globe, 37th Cong., 2 session, page 4.)

As an indication of his frame of mind at that time I would quote an extract from a letter written by Lincoln in 1864 to Elkins, of Illinois. The letter is published in many of the earlier biographies, and reads in part as follows: "Yes, we may all congratulate ourselves that this cruel war is nearly over. It has cost a vast amount of treasure and blood. It has indeed been a trying hour for the Republic, but I see in the near future a crisis approaching that unnerves me and causes me to tremble for the safety of the country."

"As a result of the war, corporations have been enthroned and an era of corruption in high places will follow, and the money power will seek to prolong its reign by working upon the prejudices of the people until all wealth is aggregated in a few hands and the Republic is destroyed. I feel at this moment more anxiety for the safety of the country than ever before, even in the midst of war."—Oakland Times.

ELOQUENT AND INSTRUCTIVE.

Mrs. Kate Tupper Galpin Talks to the School Children.

The pupils and teachers of the Grammar and High School grades of the public schools spent a delightful half-hour yesterday afternoon in listening to an eloquent and instructive talk given by Mrs. Kate Tupper Galpin.

The lady's long experience as an instructor of youth has taught her just what to say, and Nature has bestowed upon her the gift of choosing her words wisely and well. No one, young or old, can fail to be benefitted by words of counsel so fitly spoken, and both pupils and teachers felt inspired and uplifted by them. A few songs from the pupils of the High School added to the pleasure of the occasion, and all separated wishing that visits of this nature were not in the schools—so much like those of angels—few and far between.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

MONEY AND PROPERTY.

The Money Value of Property Depends Upon the Value of Money.

TO THE NEVADA STATE JOURNAL.—Referring to the statement often made by the promoters of the single gold standard of money, that the restoration of the free coinage of silver as it was established at the foundation of the mint in 1792 and continued unlimited until 1873, would result in the withdrawal of gold money from the money of the United States, it is only necessary to recall the fact that the money value of all property is relegated to the volume of standard money.

When on February 12, 1873, silver was demonetized, that law reduced the volume of standard money. A corresponding fall must follow the relegation of the money value of all property to a smaller volume of standard money.

Every person who had property and understood the relation of money to other property, sold and converted property into money, as the money value of property was certain to fall.

So the money value of property has fallen until to-day the general range of prices of property is 50 per cent less than on February 12, 1873, the date of the demonetization of silver. Repeal that law, restore the unlimited coinage of silver and exactly the reverse will take place. As the volume of standard money increases the money value of all property will increase.

The general range of prices of all property will advance and any person who understands the relation of money to other property and has money, will convert that money into property to gain the advantage of the advance in the money value of property and all money will be actively used. On an increasing volume of standard money there will be a like increase in the value of all property and money will not be idle.

HIGH CLASS PLAYS.

Elford Has the Sole Rights for the Pacific Coast.

W. J. Elford, the head of the Elford Company, which is to play a week's engagement at McKissick's Opera House, opening next Monday, Sept. 21 in "The Dangers of a Great City," is the sole owner of the rights to produce "Silver King," "The Volunteer," "Love and Money," and "New York Day by Day" on the Pacific Coast. They are all high class plays, and until Mr. Elford bought them were never produced in any theatre on the slope at prices under $1 and $1.50. The success of the Elford Company in its travels has been phenomenal.

JESSIE NORTON.

and crowded houses have greeted them everywhere they have played. Popular prices 10, 20 and 30 cents will prevail. The company is much larger and better equipped with plays and scenery than any company that has ever toured the coast at popular prices. Miss Jessie Norton, the popular soubrette, has a new repertoire of the latest songs, which she will introduce in each play. The company will produce a new piece each evening, and there is every indication that the season which will be inaugurated will be a successful one.

Sale of seats will begin this morning at Lake's Book Store. No extra charge to reserve.

STRAW.

James G. Burke was in town yesterday and gave an incident that happened a few days ago at his ranch regarding the feeling for Bryan. He had ten men at work and during the evening the conversation turned to politics. After some talk it was decided to cast a vote, and the result was 10 for Bryan and 1 for McKinley.

Seymour Bryant reported a similar experience, the only difference being that the number of votes was larger, but all were for Bryan except one.

Dan Huffaker tried the crowd at his ranch a few days ago, twenty-four votes being cast, the number of men present, and all for Bryan. After counting the votes and seeing the result Dan said "he'd be damned if he wouldn't vote for Bryan too, and make it unanimous."

So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 34 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had Lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy won't live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work a perfectly well man.
